

Abstract

Author: Charles R. Lawrence Jet Propulsion Laboratory
California Institute of Technology

Title: Evolution of Large-Scale Structure

Abstract of Talk:

The number and power of CMB experiments continues to increase. Over the next decade dramatic progress can be expected in answering many fundamental questions about the structure of the Universe. MAP and Planck provide a natural horizon in the planning of future experiments beyond which it is difficult to see.